How to Protect High-Cost eBay Transactions with Escrow.com

Escrow.com, eBay's official escrow service, makes it more comfortable for an eBay buyer to proceed with transactions over $2000, which is the upper limit for PayPal buyer protection. Buyers gain peace of mind by using escrow because they know the transaction will be completed securely and easily.

As a new user, you or your buyer must register to use the service. When you want to offer escrow as a payment option in one of your listings, be sure to indicate such on the Sell an Item form so that it appears on the listing page. After the sale closes, the seller should initiate the escrow by going to the Escrow.com site or to eBay.

Escrow.com is the only licensed, bonded & audited secure online solution that protects both the buyer and the seller with a simple, 5-step trust process.

1. Buyer and seller agree to terms
   Both parties agree to terms of the transaction, which includes a description of the merchandise, sale price, number of days for the buyer's inspection, and any shipping information.

2. Buyer pays Escrow.com
   The buyer submits funds via available payment options. Escrow.com verifies the payment. Processing time varies by payment method.

3. Seller ships merchandise
   Upon payment verification, the seller is authorized to ship merchandise to the buyer and submit tracking information. Escrow.com verifies that the buyer receives the shipment.

4. Buyer accepts the merchandise
   The buyer has set a number of days for merchandise inspection and the option to accept or reject the merchandise.

5. Escrow.com pays the seller
   Upon buyer’s approval of merchandise or expiration of inspection period, Escrow.com pays the seller by the method selected by the seller. The transaction is then complete.

Car Purchase Scam

I have become suspicious about a buyer for our car we had for sale on eBay. 'Jodie Williams' is the email name requesting that the sale only be undertaken through PayPal and that a courier would collect the car. They have asked no details about the car other than agreeing to pay the full price. Having become suspicious I searched the internet and found a few threads relating to this person 'wjodie401'. I think it is part of the same scam others have mentioned, so please beware.
In fact, eBay doesn’t think so either, “Important: Only use Escrow.com”

Project Description

We need a teaser site created for our conference where we will have a video running in the background. The sound will be disabled but the website visitor should be able to enable the sound as well. We will need call to actions to either sign up to the waiting list which will be connected to our Mailchimp or to buy tickets. We use Tito (ti.to) for our ticket sales.

We have branding guidelines that you can follow for the design and we will share that with suitable candidates. You can look at our current site to have an idea of the branding.

Current site: http://www.arctic15.com/

This teaser site that we need now will not include as much, this is just for you to have an idea of the branding guidelines.

Deadline: November 6th

Please place your bid as accurately as possible and let me know what questions you have for me in the proposal. Please include one or two websites which you have created that have explicit call to actions and concentrate on conversion.

START Architecture

A simple, predictable information architecture

All crewmembers and ISS mission roles are listed in the Overview. Each one is associated with their immediate events, making it easy to see what everybody's doing at a glance.

Tapping any role row will simply go back to the main Timeline view, loaded with the events of the selected role. Let's see what's in store for the MCC Coordinator today!

A40 Timelines Overview

At any moment, a crewmember can pinch the display. This common zoom gesture maps to a high-level Timelines Overview. From there, they can see what other crewmembers are doing now and in the near future.

Scrolling events by dragging left allows the crewmember to peak further ahead if need be.
